

Will Romney Make Run For Second Term?

LANSING (AP) — Sometime soon—probably within the next 45 days—Gov. George W. Romney will make headlines by formally announcing his intention to seek re-election.

Or so it is popularly believed by virtually everyone on the Capitol scene, including Romney's political friends and enemies, legislators and the press.

It is next to impossible to find anyone who has any doubt whatsoever that Romney will announce for a second term, regardless of what happens later in the year.

"Romney announcing his candidacy is merely a formality," said a member of the governor's own staff. "It would only be news if he didn't."

No Official Tip
"Nobody in the executive office knows for certain if the governor will run," said another. "But there is no evidence to indicate that he won't."

Whether there is "evidence" to indicate that he will run, however, is debatable at this point.

Thomas Hart, a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. public relations official who was active in the 1962 campaign and still serves in an advisory capacity, reportedly is to become 1964 campaign manager.

But Richard Milliman, press secretary to Romney, says no such decision has been made. So does Republican State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr., who managed Romney's campaign in 1962.

Both add that they have received no official word from Romney.

Decision In April?
House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, told newsmen a few days ago that Republican legislators have been told nothing certain but "generally assume" Romney will run again — and will announce shortly after he returns from Hawaii.

Democrats in government are convinced that Romney is ready to try for the GOP nomination for president, or even vice president, but in the meantime will be in the running for the governorship.

Since last fall, Romney has been saying he hasn't made up his mind about 1964 but would do so in "the early part" of the year. Newsmen, pressing for specifics, find "early" means at least into April.

One big reason why the governor isn't in a rush to announce is the fact that a declared candidate says on radio or television is subject to the "equal time" ruling of the Federal Communications Commission, giving other declared candidates an opportunity for rebuttal.

NOT CANDIDATE
HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. George Romney arrived in Hawaii Friday for a three-week vacation and said he had not heard about reports that his name would be on the Oregon Republican presidential primary ballot.

LEAP YEAR 'babies' whose birthday anniversary is today includes Mrs. Frank Chouinard and her grandson, Marshall F. Sodergren, both of Escanaba Rte. 1. They were born in Escanaba, she 76 years ago and he 20 years ago today. (Daily Press Photo)

Grandma And Grandson Both Feb. 29 Babies

This is a memorable day for Mrs. Frank Chouinard of Escanaba Rte. 1 and her grandson Marshall F. Sodergren, also of Rte. 1 but presently employed in Chicago.

Both are "Leap Year babies" and today is their birthday anniversary. Mrs. Chouinard, born Edith Toupin in Escanaba 76 years ago, and grandson Marshall, who is 20 years old, today received the congratulations of friends and family.

Sunday evening there will be a family party at Potvin's at Schaffer. Marshall is hoping he can stay over for it, although he should return to Chicago.

Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sodergren of Escanaba Rte. 1 and Mrs. Chouinard is the mother of Mrs. Sodergren.

Besides Mrs. Chouinard's Leap Year birthday, February is a rather remarkable month for members of the Sodergren family.

A daughter, Carol, a nurse, who is Mrs. Zane Zanders of Brillion, Wis., missed being born on Lincoln's birthday by one day; and the Sodergren's first grandchild (the great-grandchild of Mrs. Chouinard) Ricky Sodergren, was born one year ago on Washington's birthday.

Ricky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sodergren Jr. and one of five great-grandchildren of Mrs. Chouinard.

Pickets Battle At Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Fighting erupted in a civil rights demonstration in front of City Hall in this university city of 67,340 yesterday. It resulted in the arrest of 13, both Negroes and whites.

Pickets, marching in a tight circle, were protesting what they said was police brutality in the arrest of six Negro youths two weeks ago. Police, who flatly deny the accusation, have headquarters in City Hall.

The demonstrators represented the Direct Action Committee, a belligerent Ann Arbor group publicly denounced in the past for alleged advocacy of violence by both the NAACP and the Congress of Racial Equality.

Three policemen were hurt in the brawling that started on a lawn and ended on the floor of the City Hall lobby. Of the 13 held, three said they were University of Michigan coeds. A woman schoolteacher and five juveniles also were among those arrested.

British Queen's Cousin Alexandra Has Baby Boy

LONDON (AP) — Princess Alexandra, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, gave birth today to a son.

Attending doctors said mother and baby were doing well. The birth took place just after noon in the thatched lodge in suburban Richmond where Alexandra lives with her businessman husband, Angus Ogilvy.

Alexandra, 27, and Ogilvy, 35 second son of the Earl and Countess of Airlie, were wed last April 24.

The arrival of their child sets off a veritable royal population explosion, since the queen expects her fourth child in March her sister Princess Margaret is due to have her second in April, and the Duchess of Kent—wife of Alexandra's brother — is awaiting her second in May.

Tojo's Daughter Weds American

TOKYO (AP) — Mrs. Katsu Tojo, widow of Japan's wartime Prime Minister Hideki Tojo, has confirmed that her American-educated daughter, Kimie, 32, has married Dennis L. Gilbertson, 43, a United States business executive.

Tojo was executed with six other Japanese war leaders on Dec. 23, 1948, after an Allied tribunal convicted them of war crimes.

Gilbertson is director of the Blau Knox Japan, a company which sells American iron and steel goods.

Fire In Troy, N.Y. Takes Lives Of Nine Children

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Nine children, all members of one family, perished early today in a fire that wrecked their three-story brick home near the center of the city.

Napoleon B. Sousie, 43, father of eight of the children, and his wife, Lillian, 40, and six other children were taken to St. Mary's Hospital. A son, Robert, about 16, was reported in critical condition.

The eight dead Sousie children were identified as: Boyd, 4; Donald, 7; Linda, 9; Edward, 10; Joseph, 11; Stephen, 12; Gloria, 13; Napoleon Jr., 18. The ninth victim was Judy Stone, 2, a grandchild of the Sousies.

Dr. James Barrett, police surgeon, said the dead children had been trapped on the second and third floors by the fast-spreading flames.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Sousie had told him she had 18 children. He said he understood some of the children no longer lived with the family.

Laos Is Biggest Pacific Worry

HONOLULU (AP) — The top brass in the U.S. Pacific command talk a lot about the Communist threat in Viet Nam. Actually, they are more worried now about developments in neighboring Laos.

In the strategy rooms in Hawaii, home of the U.S. military command for the Pacific and Far East, there is increasing concern over the continued gains of the Pathet Lao—the Laotian Communists—at the expense of the small Indochinese nation's right-wing and neutral factions.

U.S. military men accuse the Pathet Lao, aided by Communist North Viet Nam, of daily violations of the 1961 Geneva agreement which paved the way for a coalition government and guaranteed Laotian neutrality.

These Pathet Lao military gains have given the Communists control of important routes leading into Viet Nam. Thus the North Vietnamese Reds have ready supply lines to their guerrilla units in South Viet Nam.

One U.S. military man called Laos "the shakiest problem in Asia."

Laos, however, is just one of the headaches for Adm. U. S. Grant Sharp when he becomes

Port Buildup Bills Set For House Action

LANSING (AP) — Two bills aimed at spurring public port development were moved up to the voting stage in the House Friday, despite an argument over whether one of them is constitutional.

The bills, sponsored by Rep. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, are designed to make it easier for public port authorities to finance expansion of facilities.

One of them, authorizing public ports to accept gifts and loans from public and private sources, advanced without debate.

But the second — reducing from 60 to 51 per cent the percentage of voters needed to approve a port bond issue — was challenged on grounds it might be unconstitutional.

Provisions Vogue
Lawmakers argued that the new constitution is vague in its provisions for bond issue voting, but "could be interpreted to mean only a majority of the voters is required."

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, said he thought the new constitution made the bill unnecessary.

Bouwsma replied that he wouldn't take issue with that, but felt "we should pass the bill and make sure."

Rep. William Baird, D-Detroit, said he has renewed a request for an opinion from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley whether the bond issue bill would be constitutional if enacted.

The House approved, 79-9, a bill revising debt responsibilities for "disorganized" school districts when they are combined with other districts.

Defeated on a 62-28 vote was a bill which would have given judges the option of permitting motorists to keep their drivers' licenses after the first conviction for drunk driving.

Airport For Island

Present law requires a 90-day license suspension, but Rep. Alexander Petri, D-Ecorse, sponsor of the bill, argued that this induces judges to agree to letting drivers plead guilty to lesser charges on the first drunk arrest.

Aglo moved up for a vote next week was a bill which would authorize the Mackinac Island State Park Commission to construct an improved airport on the resort island.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled last year that the island's emergency airstrip could not be developed without the state-owned land reverting to federal custody.

Plans call for a 3,500-foot paved landing strip to be built with the state and federal government sharing equally the $100,000 cost.

Lack Of License Tabs Will Draw Ticket Tonight

LANSING (AP) — Today is last chance day for motorists to obtain 1964 license plate tabs.

Police will start issuing violation tickets after midnight to those still driving with the old tabs.

The Secretary of State's office said all its Civil Service Branch offices will remain open until 8 p.m. and any customers in line at closing time will be waited on.

All fee offices, which set their own hours, also are expected to be open until 8 p.m. or later.

Troopers Begin 6-Day Week In South Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police in southern Michigan will return to a six-day week starting Sunday in an experiment ordered by Gov. George W. Romney to combat the rising tide of highway deaths and accidents.

The emergency traffic enforcement drive is planned for the month of March only. A study then will be made to determine if the experiment paid off with fewer accidents.

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs said 540 troopers and 98 corporals are involved. The new temporary schedule calls for a six-day week of nine hours a day, leaving an overtime accumulation of six hours a week per man over the 48-hour maximum.

Childs said cost of the overtime for one month will be approximately $50,000. There also is a fixed charge in excess of $8,000 covering the subsistence allowance and cost of gasoline and equipment for the extra day.

Childs said there is a possibility of an extra charge to be added to the pension fund. It is still undecided if the overtime can be paid, depending on whether the funds will be available, he said.

The six-day week will apply to the six state police districts below the Oceana-Bay County line, where 90 per cent of Michigan accidents occur.

The five-day week will continue in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula.

Childs said this is primarily because, with the limited personnel at the posts in these areas, it would not be possible to man them properly if troopers had to be given compensatory time off instead of overtime pay.

Emergency plans were put into effect in 19 Maryland counties and Baltimore.

Ten inches of snow fell in Frederick County in Maryland, where three persons were killed in a car-truck collision on snow-slick U.S. 340 Friday. Four inches fell in Baltimore and 5 inches in western Maryland, where Garrett County now has 22 inches on the ground.

The Eastern Shore of Maryland, which generally has little snow, lay under a 5-inch fall and more was forecast.

A thunderstorm accompanied a 4-inch snowfall in Salisbury.

Johnson Meets With Newsmen; On Job 100 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson revealed today the existence of a new U.S. superjet fighter plane "that far exceeds the performance of any other aircraft in use in the world today."

The President, in his first televised news conference, said the new long range interceptor was being revealed at this time so that its flight testing and final phases of development could proceed in orderly fashion.

He said the program was set up in secret in 1959, with Lockheed Aircraft in charge of the program. The engine was built by Pratt and Whitney, he said, while Hughes Aircraft developed the fire control and missile system.

Details Withheld
Johnson gave no details of the aircraft's performance, except to say that it flies at speeds in excess of 2,000 miles an hour and performs at altitudes of up to 70,000 feet.

One key to the development of this plane, which flies at times at three times the speed of sound, is a new process of fabrication with titanium metal which successfully resists the extremely high temperatures resulting from supersonic flight, Johnson said.

The problems solved in developing this jet fighter, Johnson said, will assist in development of the supersonic air liner.

Johnson opened the news conference with the announcement of a list of high-level government appointments.

Vacancies Filled
Heading that list was the selection of William P. Bundy for the key post of assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Bundy, older brother of presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy, moves from the Pentagon where he has been assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs. In the new post he succeeds Roger Hillsman whose resignation was announced Tuesday.

Johnson said he is moving John McNaughton, the Pentagon's present general counsel, to the job Bundy now holds.

In another nomination affecting the Defense Department, Johnson picked Daniel Lueva, no, an official of the California state government, to fill a vacancy as assistant secretary of the army.

Mrs. Frankie M. Freeman of St. Louis, Johnson said, has been named to the Civil Rights Commission. He described her as a distinguished Missouri lawyer, formerly an assistant state attorney general.

Nation Looks On
The first question after Johnson's prepared announcements was whether Johnson would confirm reports that special security measures were taken during his Florida trip because of a warning that there was

Atlantic Coast Has Snowstorm

By The Associated Press

A wind-whipped snowstorm pelted the Atlantic Coast this leap year day, and the U.S. Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings for four northeastern states as February came to a wintry end.

The fast-moving storm reached the large population centers of the East Coast, and heavy snow alerts were in effect for eastern Maryland, Delaware, southern New Jersey and southeastern Pennsylvania.

The Weather Bureau said the snow will spread into southeastern New England today, swept by strong winds.

Emergency plans were put into effect in 19 Maryland counties and Baltimore.

Ten inches of snow fell in Frederick County in Maryland, where three persons were killed in a car-truck collision on snow-slick U.S. 340 Friday. Four inches fell in Baltimore and 5 inches in western Maryland, where Garrett County now has 22 inches on the ground.

Tight Security Follows Rumor From Miami

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that extraordinary measures were taken to protect his life in Florida this week because there were "reasons to take additional precautions."

Johnson did not confirm reports that the measures were taken because of a tip that a Cuban suicide pilot might try to ram the presidential transport plane, but told his news conference that Secret Service suggestions were followed.

He said he had asked that the situation be handled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Secret Service. He reminded questioners that "I don't handle my own security."

"I was informed there had been reasons to take additional precautions," Johnson said.

The precautions taken during the President's trip to Miami Beach amounted to virtual wartime security measures.

The report of a Cuban "Kamikaze" attempt on the President's life was published by the Miami Herald Friday night.

No Chances Taken
Without question, the security measures imposed during Johnson's 16-hour Florida visit suggested there was official concern about the safety of the President while in the air.

The Herald, in a story by Gene Miller, said the Secret Service had received a tip, apparently about a week ago, that a suicide pilot might try to ram Johnson's plane or that a Cuba-based missile might be aimed at the big jet.

According to the newspaper, the Secret Service considered these possibilities highly unlikely. However, it was said that officials decided to take no chances.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, had this to say about the report: "I do not intend to comment on any story speculating on yesterday's (Thursday's) events. Security measures taken yesterday were taken for good and sufficient reasons. It would not be in the national interest to discuss them any further at this time."

Planes Changed
Earlier Friday, Salinger had acknowledged that protective measures "in addition to those normally taken" had been imposed "for security reasons."

Johnson flew to Florida Thursday afternoon and, after stops at Jacksonville, Palatka, Palm Beach and Miami Beach, returned to Washington Friday morning.

Among the security measures that seemed to lend credence to the reported concern about a possible aerial assassination attempt were:

1. Johnson did not fly to Florida on his own easily identified Boeing 707 jet. Instead he boarded one of a fleet of executive

Teacher Strike Called Illegal

DETROIT (AP) — A strike of Detroit's 300 public schools, called for in a vote by the Detroit Federation of Teachers, would be illegal under Michigan law, the State Attorney General's office said today.

Union members voted 2,109-387 Thursday night for a strike unless they are granted an election among the 10,000 public school teachers to determine a collective bargaining agent.

"There is no question," said Deputy Attorney General Leon S. Cohan, "that the law applies to teachers as well as to other public employees."

Rep. Edward M. Hutchinson, D-Mich., who in 1947 as a state senator sponsored the law barring strikes by public employees, said the ban "definitely and specifically" applies to teachers and originally was passed to counter a threatened Detroit teachers strike.

Hutchinson contended that any teacher striking automatically would lose his job and pension and seniority rights.

Detroit Robber Discards Loot; Gets 10 Years

DETROIT (AP) — A 90-day period of psychiatric observation and study and a 10-year prison sentence was ordered Friday for a bank robber who said he threw away most of the loot from a Dec. 13 holdup.

Federal Judge Fred W. Kaess handed down the sentence to Calvin Lee Hopkins, 45, of Detroit, who armed with a toy pistol, robbed a Manufacturer's National Bank branch in Farmington Township of $325.

Tech To Test
Army Vehicles

HOUGHTON— Michigan
Tech has been awarded a $95,000 "time-materials contract" to conduct a series of studies during the next 12 months for the Army Tank Automotive Center, a branch of the Army Mobility Command in Detroit.
The projects will be conducted at Keweenaw Field Station at Houghton County Memorial Airport, which Tech is operating under a contract with ATAC.
The basic contract will cover vehicle evaluation, snow strength studies and problems with summer terrain. The snow strength studies, which started this week, will require three weeks.
Another project getting underway is an engineering evaluation of two pieces of equipment, an "airroll vehicle" and a T-196 self-propelled 155 mm howitzer.
The airroll is a tracked vehicle with large pneumatic bags on the track instead of the usual "tugs". The T-196 is very similar in appearance to a tank, but carries less armor
plate.
Another unusual vehicle at the Field Station but not yet involved in a testing project is the marsh screw. This amphibious vehicle is similar to a weasel, but instead of being propelled by a tank-like track it operates on the principle of a wood screw.

Clear The Air

Cloudy, with the prospect of thunder and lightning—that's the U. S. Weather Bureau's situation in Escanaba right now.
And if the Weather Bureau had a meteorologist here, he might read the signals to in-right into Washington, D. C.,

Robert M. White.
The storm was triggered last year with the closing of the Weather Bureau office in the Post Office building at Escana-weather station here continuously for 93 years.

White said the closing was "occasioned by our need to effect economies in our weather

Service Inadequate Weather information is assembled at Escanaba by cooperative observers, using weather stations facilities and transmitting the information to Detroit.
There the information is correlated with data from other sources and weather forecasts are prepared and disseminated by the press services to newspapers and radio stations.
By the time the information comes back to Escanaba it has lost all of its local and particular significance. It is so generalized that it helps only by regions and zones.
George Harvey, Escanaba city manager, addressed an inquiry to White in connection with the closing of the Weather Bureau office here. He questioned the "economy" involved in the withdrawal of a vital public service.

Harvey noted that White recommended "a new weather

Natural Gas
Project Revives
On Two Fronts

After long quiet the project to make natural gas available in the Upper Peninsula was active again this week, and on two fronts.
The City of Escanaba was asked to send a representative to the Omaha headquarters of Northern Natural Gas Co. next Tuesday for an announcement that is expected to be notice that Northern Natural is asking the Federal Power Commission for permission to serve the U. P. and asking the support in its application of communities that would be served by the proposed gas pipe line from Duluth.
With a Northern Natural
announcement due next week,
Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line
Co. of Detroit sent Keith L.
Valrance, its industrial development and utilization engineer, to Escanaba this week to appraise the gas business potential here if it extended its existing natural gas pipeline to Escanaba-Gladstone, and to Kingsford-Iron Mountain and the Groveland Mine of Hanna Mining Co. near Randville.
First Project Failed
Northern Natural has been interested in the Upper Peninsula market for several years and after the Federal Power Commission withdrew the permission it had given to Michigan Gas & Electric Co. of Three Rivers, Mich., to build a U. P. gas pipe line from Menominee to Marquette, it started a study of the U. P. market.
The meeting in Omaha next week to which Douglas Dunn, sales officer Northern Natural, invited Escanaba City Manager George Harvey, indicates that Northern Natural has completed its casing of the U.
P. market potential and is ready for some sort of action.
Michigan Gas & Electric Co. which owns the gas utilities in Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming, has not revived its effort to enter the U. P. natural gas project, but is friendly toward Northern Natural's pipe

Survey Reveals
Lung Troubles

Michiganders — particularly those over 40—are no longer winded as some of the younger set might think.
A survey of postal workers in Detroit indicates nearly 30 per cent of those in this age category suffer from medically significant shortness-of-breath, the most common symptom of the major chronic respiratory disease—emphysema.
The study was made possible through Christmas Seal funds. It was the first survey of its sort conducted in Michigan in an effort to determine the prevalence of chronic respiratory diseases.
Only those with regular daily symptoms of cough and/or phlegm for a period of three months each year, thus considered to have significant chronic bronchitis, were listed in the deficiency category.
There was a marked differential between smokers and non-smokers, with the symptoms appearing twice as frequently among the former.

Prices Are Kept
Down In Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—While other Common Market countries suffer from inflation, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard is having unique success in keeping prices down in West Germany with his policy of moderation.
Erhard developed this policy
while he was minister of economies, the post he held before succeeding Konrad Adenauer last October. More than two years ago, Erhard warned frequently that all groups would have to limit their demands—show moderation — if postwar prosperity was to continue.
He laid down the general rule that the national growth rate should set the top limit for increases in wages and government spending. Businessmen were to make price increases only if these did not have inflationary effects.
Thanks to the great prestige
Erhard built up in engineering
the economic miracle of West German recovery, he has been able to make his policy prevail.
The giant automobile industry tried to defy him in the spring of 1962 with price increases he considered excessive. Erhard pushed a measure through the cabinet lowering tariffs on cars and trucks imported from other Common Market countries.
The business community, seeing Erhard was ready to turn talk into action, has shown no willingness to cross him since.

Salad Lesson
For Wilson Club

BARK RIVER—The lesson,
"Salads", was presented by Mrs. Clem Ouradnik and Mrs.
Wayne Hooker at the meeting of the Wilson 47 Study Group held at the Ouradnik home Monday evening. The leaders prepared a chef's salad which was a main dish, a cabbage salad with French dressing, the latter a special recipe from Ingrid Tervonen who gave the lesson at the VFW Hall in Daggett, and a dessert salad.
This was a cranberry molded salad. These salads served with assorted crackers and coffee were enjoyed by the group after the meeting.
Mrs. Marvin Ray was a guest.
The next meeting will be at the John J. Kleiman home Monday, March 23. A leaders training lesson will be held at the Stephenson Township Hall March 10. This will be an all-day session on major kitchen appliances and will be given by a specialist from Michigan State University in East Lansing. There will be a tour of appliance shops in the afternoon. Leaders going to Stephenson for this lesson will be Mrs. Clarence Ray and Mrs.
Wayne Hooker.

Delta Charities Fund Will Meet Agencies' Needs

Delta United Charities' first annual campaign for funds to finance 9 Delta County youth, welfare and health services brought in cash and pledges totaling $43,200 and will meet the fund's commitments to its member agencies for 1964, President A. W. Freeman announced today.

The victory is a historic one in the county, which has had many failures in its effort to organize its charities into a united campaign. The goal of the fund campaign which started last fall was $50,000 and it wasn't fully attained, but Freeman said that the directors of DUC were well pleased with the results and that they promise progress in united giving in Delta County in years to come.

"We are proud of the Delta County community for its response to this appeal," said Freeman. "We made some mistakes and we have had some weak spots, but all who gave can have the good feeling that the giving is substantially unanimous and that they are participating in support of the community by giving to these volunteer agencies which can operate only if the public supports them.

First Payments Made

"I don't think we've ever had such an active and helpful relationship between the member agencies and the uniting organization before as we have had between DUC and the Red Cross Blood Bank, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Retarded Children School, Child Guidance Clinic, Salvation Army, Bay Cliff Health Camp and the Y.M.C.A.

"We made the first quarterly payment to these agencies on Jan. 8 and there will be others at intervals of three months to finance their operations. The DUC directors are delighted to note an invigoration of the program of the Boy Scouts and other agencies under the stimulation of adequate financing.

"We think that DUC itself was to blame for some of the soft spots because of lack of effective organization, but this was our first year and we'll profit by our mistakes and John Pearson, our campaign manager, will remedy them in the drive next fall.

Industries Generous

"The professional groups gave more than ever before and are very well represented in the total. Industries were generous and offered in some cases to make up deficiencies where labor was reluctant, but we are unhappy about any such arrangement as the essence of this program is a sharing by all elements of the community and one of our biggest, strongest and most active groups is labor. It helps guide the program as well as support it and it has never been better represented than it is this year.

"Where there lingers an unwillingness to participate in United Charities we can be understanding of the desire for independence. But we would like to point out that if all the groups in the county insisted upon a right to select the beneficiaries of their giving, we would be back to our chronic old system of each charity for itself and none of them getting enough to operate on.

"Unfortunately, when a group will not participate in DUC and says that it gives to some of our member agencies we have no record so we can credit such giving to the donor and against the agency's account. We have been informed of generous giving by a group or two that do not yet participate in DUC. We honor them for it and we hope that next year they will see fit to help us assume the support of all the community's deserving agencies. Then they will be helping pay for the services they are now getting from our member agencies through the generosity of the rest of the community."

Directors of DUC are Freeman, George Douglas, vice president; Forest Henslee, treasurer; Howard Fontaine, secretary; Lloyd Carlson, Dr. Robert Ryde and M. W. Buckmiller.

Toad Creek Farm Bureau Holds Meeting

BARK RIVER—The February meeting of the Toad Creek Farm Bureau was held at the Alex Jorasz home, Wilson Rte. 1. "Use of Pesticides by Farmers" was the topic of discussion and members decided that no further legislation was needed if the manufacturer's directions were followed and the use of the pesticides should be continued as needed.

Adolph Getzloff, minuteman, reported on farm legislation coming up, particularly regarding the wheat bill, and said the County Farm Bureau Committee was asked by the Michigan Farm Bureau Board of Directors to urge all members to write their congressmen insisting that farmers knew what they wanted when they voted no last year on the wheat referendum.

The County Farm Bureaus are sponsoring two high school students from the county to Camp Kett near Cadillac. This is a Young Peoples Citizenship Seminar. One student will be sponsored by the Menominee County Board of Directors of the Farm Bureau and the second student will be sponsored by PTA and other civic organizations. These students will report to the sponsoring organizations on their return. All schools in the county are being contacted for applicants, one of whom must be from a Farm Bureau family. The other may be from a city family.

Six families who have been attending the Toad Creek Farm Bureau meetings have become a group of their own known as the Pioneer Farm Bureau. All are from the Wilson area and will hold their first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kleiman Wednesday, March 11. The next meeting of the Toad Creek Farm Bureau will be Monday, March 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kuharski.

A report on the District 11 West Menominee County Farm Bureau Women's Committee meeting held at the home of Mrs. John Ray in Carney was given by Mesdames Chester Good, County Chairman, Wayne Hooker, vice-chairman, and Clem Ouradnik.

Protect Children By Immunization, Dr. Cretens Urges

Parents knowingly would not allow their child to taste rat poison or play with matches. Yet many otherwise conscientious mother and fathers neglect the simple precaution of having their children immunized against diseases that can cripple, disfigure, weaken and kill, said Dr. Mary L. Cretens, Delta-Menominee Health director.

Part of this neglect is due to the fact that many believe smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough are diseases that are no longer a dangerous threat.

Although there has been a marked reduction in the past 40 years, in both the number of cases and number of deaths from most of the diseases for which immunization is now possible, some of them still take their toll. In addition, these diseases seem to wait for a let-up in attention to immunization, she said.

An effective vaccine against smallpox has been available since 1904, but it was not until 1956 that there were no cases of smallpox. In 1962 it was estimated four fifths of the adult population was not adequately vaccinated. In 1961, there were 11,468 reported cases of whooping cough in the U. S. and 76 deaths. For diphtheria and tetanus (lockjaw) there were in 1961, 68 and 242 deaths respectively.

"Almost everyone has observed the decrease in polio since the advent of the Salk vaccine. Actually from 33,300 cases and 1,904 deaths in 1950, to 1,312 cases and 90 deaths in 1961. Satisfactory immunization against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, measles are readily available today. It is important that infants be started with their shots at an early age so they will not contract these diseases while general resistance to infection is low. It is important, also, that periodic boosters be given during childhood and continued through adult life," Dr. Cretens said.

Sen. Lundgren Not Giving Up

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, who has been rebuffed three times already in his campaign to have the legislature set its own districts, is a long way from giving up.

In fact, when the State Supreme Court meets Monday to begin hearing oral arguments on apportionment, the bushy-browed freshman senator is expected to be on hand as a silent observer.

"I just may be represented by counsel," says the 49-year-old pharmacist who represents seven Upper Peninsula counties.

Lundgren had hoped to be allowed to intervene in the hearings. But the Supreme Court ruled this out this week, rejecting his petition on grounds that only members of the Apportionment Commission are appropriate to the debate.

The 1963 constitution, which Lundgren helped write, says only members of the commission may submit apportionment plans. As a constitutional convention delegate, Lundgren had fought the formation of the commission.

Lundgren had the satisfaction Jan. 31, on the eve of the commission's deadlock, of hearing commission member William Hannah, a Muskegon Republican who had fought against Lundgren in the convention, say, "I guess you were right and I was wrong, Kent."

"There's more room for trading in the legislature."

Lundgren tried to put his own redistricting plan before the commission by means of a resolution, but the Committee on Senate Business killed this by inaction.

But since then, he has opened a new front in his battle: A bill setting up legislative districts in case the court is unable to establish new districts in time for this year's electioneering.

This move has the sponsorship of a bi-partisan majority of the Senate, and has gotten a better committee assignment.

Three sponsors of Lundgren's so-called "Plan 500" serve on the seven-man Judiciary Committee — Paul Younger, R-Lansing, Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, and Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft.

records should serve as reminders for boosters.

Information on best time for starting infants immunizations and timing for boosters is available from the family physician and from the Delta-Menominee District Health Department.

Ford Magazine Boosts Lake Area

Ford Times magazine, a national showcase of travel attractions since 1908, will devote its entire April, 1965, issue to recreation centers in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ontario. C. H. Dykeman, publications manager of Ford told the annual press luncheon of a Great Lakes tourist association—Northern Great Lakes Area Council—at the Pick-Congress Hotel.

He said the issue of the 64-page travel magazine will trace part of the historical "Trail of the Voyageurs" and feature ski resorts, summer lodges, sports centers and scenic spots to be found along the way.

Dykeman said features already underway include Minnesota's Quetico-Superior canoe country; the copper mines of Upper Michigan and the Indian country of the Michigan Traverse Bay region; the fun of Wisconsin's Sun Prairie Sweet Corn Festival and the state's exotic swampland flowers and botany, and the islands of Ontario's McGregor's Bay.

State Tourism Survey

A Central Michigan University proposal for research of the state's tourist industry has been called a "vital and promising project" by Chairman Robert L. Wooley of the Michigan Tourist Council.

The project was explained as a step to identifying Michigan's tourists, their origins and desires, determining the current status of tourism in Michigan, where it is one of the state's top 3 income producers, and projecting the future growth of the industry.

There definitely is need for such information if Michigan's tourist industry is to be promoted properly on a basis of knowledge. This was revealed by the Governor's Study Committee on the Conservation Department in 1963. But the study also found that there is a sorry lack of coordination among the many elements in Michigan concerned with the state's tourism.

The Cabots are reputed not to speak to the Lodges, and Macy's are mum with Gimble's, but they're both outdone by recreational agencies.

In the Conservation Department, whose Parks Division administers the state park system, the Forestry Division's campground development program was not coordinated with the parks program. The study committee recommended a coordination of all recreational elements in Michigan for master planning—the federal agencies (there are 20 concerned with outdoor recreation), state agencies like the Conservation Department, Highway Department (which has a park system), Waterways Commission, Department of Agriculture, State Tourist Council, State Department of Economic Expansion, State Tourist Council, etc., and the local governments and the increasing private sector in recreational business.

The Legislature should make any Central Michigan University study of Michigan tourism part of a state master plan, and not one more patch in a crazy quilt.

Postal Worry

We're doing fine in the science of communications. We have television and the telephone — just call anyone, anywhere.

But readable handwriting we still haven't got.

A research specialist in this field is so upset over our scribbling that he calls it a "national disgrace." Illegible penmanship, he asserts, means "crippled communications and lowered learnings."

It also means higher blood pressure as we try to figure out what some scratchy scrawler is trying to say.

We heard the other day of a fellow who has a simple way of replying to writers whose signature resembles the headline of a cardiograph.

He cuts out the signature, pastes it on the return envelope and lets the post office worry.

Let this practice become general, perhaps it would be a good idea for the schools to try a little harder to teach kids how to write so people can read it—and to keep on writing that way all their lives.

Disease Of The Week

Of all the warnings about what might happen from excessive watching of television—no one foresaw that an entirely new disease might be generated.

It's been diagnosed as "TV medicitis" by Dr. A. M. Aibinder of New York. He says some viewers become so caught up in medical dramas that they identify with the actors and think they have caught the disease being portrayed.

"Convinced they have the disease, they visit their doctor and even request the treatment they saw administered on television," he says.

This might be an idea for the rating services. Along with asking viewers what they are watching at the moment, they could inquire about what diseases they are suffering from. This would reveal not only current program standings, but any carryover from previous weeks' shows.

Better Corncobs

Here's good news for loose-ended, ex-cigarette smokers and/or secret admirers of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allen Dulles, Norman Rockwell, Bennett Cerf and a number of others:

The Corn Industries Foundation has announced the results of scientific project MO Pipe 12. In simple terms it means that better corn cob pipes are in the offing.

MO Pipe 12 is a new hybrid corn with an exceptionally hard cob that was developed by Dr. Marcus S. Zuber at the University of Missouri. It is perhaps the greatest breakthrough in the field since 1869, when a Missouri farmer named John Scharke had the first pipe bowl fashioned from a corncob.

Only three companies in the nation make corncob pipes, and because only Missouri bottomlands seem able to produce the quality cobs needed, they have made Washington, Mo., the corncob capital of the world.

They are currently speculating on what would happen if they could get women interested in corncob pipes.

Pilots Needed

For years, one of the most exclusive professions in the world has been that of airline pilot.

Unless a man was fortunate enough to get his training at government expense or was rich enough to buy the equivalent, he had little chance of taking up his career.

Now for the first time, with no war for 14 years, a young man need not have thousands of multiengine hours in his log book before applying. He must be a licensed pilot, for the airlines do not yet give primary training, but he can have as few as 200 hours.

The airlines will need more than 1,000 new pilots within the next few years and they are prepared to spend $10,000 to $20,000 on advanced training for every one of them.

The reason is twofold: More new planes are going into service, especially the smaller, short-haul jets; and the veterans are aging.

Cost of obtaining the necessary couple hundred hours is not small, but the investment is sound. Senior jet captains can make more than $30,000 a year.

'Are They Really in the Bag, Senator?'

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara now has an "Improved Strategic Defense Plan" which his computing machines say could save 164,800,000 lives in event of a 5,000-megaton Soviet attack.

It would include:

• A 100-city system of blast shelters at a cost of $18 billion.

• An antimissile-missile defense building program costing $18 billion. Heart of this system would be batteries of Nike X and Nike Zeus antiballistic missiles.

• A $3 billion, five-year nationwide fallout shelter building program centering in schools and hospitals.

• A multibillion-dollar program aimed at producing a supersonic long-range fighter that could stop Soviet bombers well outside the continental United States.

Overall, there would be radiation protection for 240 million people and blast protection for 130 million of the 240 million.

Even without this protection, say the calculating machines, an additional 65.7 million Americans would live through a 5,000-megaton Soviet attack, equivalent to the combined power of 3,000 Polaris missiles, 3,000 Minutemen and 350 Titans.

But even with the protection of this four-way defense, McNamara's computers estimate 45.2 million Americans out of a predicted 1968-70 population of 210 million, would lose their lives in a 5,000-megaton attack. McNamara's "go" decision has been made on the fallout shelter program. It is now up to Congress. He's expected to decide on Nike X-Nike Zeus by the end of the year, after new sophisticated tests and further dollar - mathematical computations, and decide on the blast shelters by December 1965.

This plan was developed principally to protect primary military centers, the military's industrial backup and the people, factories and government centers essential to the "earliest possible national recovery." Priority points of protection are industrial complexes, communication focal points, offensive airfields, sub bases, ICBM and nuclear storage sites, military control centers, defensive bases, seats of government and population centers.

The overall plan and its details have been worked out in a series of Defense Department "war games" over the past two years.

This plan has had to overcome high hurdles before it could get this far:

1. It was blocked by White House and Defense Department theoreticians who said it might "provoke" Khrushchev. Most of these theoreticians have now departed.

Newest thinking: If we are to keep peace, Khrushchev, Europe and Asia must believe we would use our nuclear force if necessary. That posture would be more credible if they knew we had some plan for survival.

2. Some key scientists have held we should hold off on Zeus and leapfrog into some superior way of knocking down ICBMs. The latest research has convinced these men that better ICBM defense methods are some time off.

There's also a new urgency. This plan reflects growing concern over the rapidly expanding Soviet fleet of missile-firing subs. Because the Navy has developed no sure-fire way of finding these undersea craft, McNamara believes a successful Nike X system could provide the primary U.S. capability against sub-launched missiles.

3. Building an offensive capability has taken almost all available funds. Because the big ICBM program will move down the next few years, the door is open for adding several billion dollars a year to continental defense.

This plan was developed principally to protect primary military centers, the military's industrial backup and the people, factories and government centers essential to the "earliest possible national recovery."

Priority points of protection are industrial complexes, communication focal points, offensive airfields, sub bases, ICBM and nuclear storage sites, military control centers, defensive bases, seats of government and population centers.

The overall plan and its details have been worked out in a series of Defense Department "war games" over the past two years.

Finding The Way

The 'Outs' Are 'In

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Ever since the days of Cain and Abel, mankind has been troubled about being an "in" or an "out." Teen-agers and politicians, international leaders and local social climbers are plagued by the same struggle. A humorous quip generalized the new situation in Washington as "The Ivy League is out; the Southwestern Conference is in. The dinner dance is out; the square dance is in." These easy quips suggest a mood.

Jesus watched this same human desire and used it to describe the meaning of the kingdom of God. Using picture language familiar to his listeners, he told of 99 sheep who were "in," as far as love was concerned. And the older brother who stayed home grumbling was "in," and yet was "out" as far as his understanding of this same love is concerned.

Being "in" is neither being in the flock nor out of the flock. It is understanding a prior relationship.

The sheep belonged to the shepherd, the son to the father. There is a belonging to this central fact, even when it isn't recognized. It's too easy for those who know of the "outs" from the love of God.

There is no easy or automatic arrival. It requires the maturing understanding of a relationship. The real "in" knows that there is some sense in being discovered, in being restored to the family relationship. All of us know this, and betray it as easily as did that older brother. His sin was simply that he was glad that his brother was gone, and never wanted him returned. He thought he was an "in." He was an "out."

That's about the most important recognition we can make — that, and the knowledge that even when we feel "out," there is the faith that nothing can ever separate us from the love of God.

Memory Lane

20 Years Ago

A lake trout hatched in the Thompson hatchery in 1941 made news today. It was tagged and released out of Munising on May 14, 1941 and caught yesterday 40 miles away. In that time it had gained 11 ounces.

One hundred and twenty-eight Delta county young men are receiving notice from the local draft board that they are due for induction early this month.

Dr. C. B. Kitchen returned to Escanaba today after spending the earlier part of the week in Chicago where he attended the annual convention of the American Dental Association.

Drug Controls Are Published

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sweeping regulatory proposals covering thousands of drugs and antibiotics were set for publishing Friday.

The Food and Drug Administration regulations would require manufacturers to file reports showing the efficacy as well as the safety of practically every drug and antibiotic for which federal clearance was granted between 1938 and last June 20.

Thirty days will be allowed for comment. Then, when the regulations are published in final form, drug manufacturers would be required:

—To file within 30 days reports on whether drugs or antibiotics for which clearance was obtained between 1938 and last June 20 under prior laws are still on the market.

—To file within the following 60 days reports on the efficacy, safety and side effects of the drugs or antibiotics. This has been required since last June 20 for all new drugs and antibiotics offered for clearance.

The proposals ready for publication in the federal register are intended to implement the Kefauver - Harris Drug Act amendments which allowed two years for proof of efficacy of drugs already on the market. The deadline is next Oct. 10.

Nursing Homes Object To Fire Safety Proposal

EAST LANSING (AP)—A small group of nursing home operators Friday picketed state police headquarters where a public hearing was being conducted on nursing home fire regulations.

The pickets apparently objected to a proposed requirement that sprinkler systems be added to nursing homes needing them as a safety precaution, said Tom Masterson, state police information officer.

The picketing was orderly and ended when the meeting started. The pickets entered the building to attend the hearing. Some 300 representatives of nursing homes and affected industries are attending.

Being discussed were safety regulations proposed by the state fire marshal's office. The proposed regulations are aimed at bringing Michigan's regulations in line with a uniform national code, Masterson said.

School Prayer Issue Unsolved

WASHINGTON (AP)—On June 25, 1962, the Supreme Court barred recitation of an official prayer in the public schools of New York.

Shortly afterward, cut into the marble above the chair of the speaker of the House and picked out in gilt paint, appeared the legend "In God We Trust."

The target was obvious, and the speedy reaction was an indication of the opposition of many House members of the court's decision.

Nearly two years and several more court prayer decisions later, the issue still is boiling in the House.

No less than 144 resolutions to amend the Constitution so as to nullify the Supreme Court's decisions have been introduced in the House. They have been referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., ordered his staff to conduct a painstaking survey of the whole question. This report has now been completed and is in the hands of Judiciary Committee members.

Celler has promised public hearings soon.

Letters Favor Lady President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith's aides figure her mail is over 20-1 favorable to her presidential bid. But not all the feminine correspondents want to fight any battle of the sexes on the side of the Maine Republican.

Generally the letters that have poured into her office since she tossed her bonnet into the GOP presidential nomination ring are favorable—about 96 per cent, her office estimates.

And some are triumphantly favorable, such as the letter from a Granada Hills, Calif., woman who wrote:

"A lady in the White House? Yes. Five million women in Washington could not have made a worse mess than we have today."

And many of the men, some probably accustomed to the idea of a woman ruling the roost, are all for a "madam president."

Then there is always the man who looks back fondly on the good old days when women weren't even allowed to cast a ballot, much less have their names on one.

And that there was in a sharp note from a Buffalo, N.Y., male who remarked:

"The day women got the vote, that day the country went to hell."

Mrs. Peterson May Be Candidate For U.S. Senate

LANSING (AP)—Mrs. Elly Peterson, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, says she may seek GOP nomination for the U. S. Senate in Michigan's August primary.

Two other Republican candidates already are in the field, seeking nomination to oppose Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart in his re-election bid in November. They are Edward A. Meany of Grand Haven and James F. O'Neil of Livonia.

Mrs. Peterson told reporters she will make up her mind in about two weeks, adding:

"The idea is intriguing. I've been talking for years about more women running for office and now I guess my words are coming back to haunt me."

Top assistant to Republican National Chairman William E. Miller, Mrs. Peterson is 49 and her home is in Charlotte. While a party worker many years, she never has run for public office.

Small Chiseler Gets Her Slap

Dear Ann Landers: Danny and I were engaged but that's off now. We still date once in awhile.

When we were engaged I used to ask Danny for a few dollars to get my hair fixed and he was very nice about it. If we were in a drug store for a snack I'd pick up a few little items and he'd pay for them.

The other evening we were out for a walk and passed a grocery store. I needed a few little things so we stopped. When we walked up to the cash register Danny just stood there. Finally I said, "Well, aren't you going to pay?" He said, "I didn't buy anything."

I never felt so cheap in all my life. The whole bill was under $2.00. I took out my wallet and paid for the groceries myself. We didn't do anything that day but go for a walk. Danny didn't spend a dime on me. Was he wrong? I want you to be the judge.—LITTLE BETSY

Dear Little—and I do mean VERY small: You sound like a penny ante chiseler.

Why should Danny swing for your groceries? Some couples have a "You buy 'em, I fry 'em" dinner date, but this was nothing of the sort. You tried to clip the guy and he wouldn't clip. I'm with him.

Romney Is Not 'Favorite Son'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stopping en route to a Hawaiian vacation, Michigan Gov. George Romney told reporters Thursday he won't come to the Republican National Convention in July as a favorite son.

"I will come to the convention simply as the leader of the Michigan delegation," he said.

He and Mrs. Romney were greeted at the airport by their 22-year-old son Scott, a junior at Stanford University.

Romney again said, "I am not a candidate and I'm not going to become a candidate" for president. If he were offered a draft, he'd take it, he added.

The governor criticized Democratic administration policies, and said "a tax cut without a spending cut is like a drug . . . it eases the pocketbook nerve pain only temporarily."

Young Iowan, 29, Takes Post As Maritime Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee approved today the nomination of Nicholas Johnson, a 29-year-old Iowan, who said under questioning that he doesn't own a boat, to be maritime administrator.

The action, reportedly unanimous, was taken at a closed session after a brief and friendly hearing, at which Johnson said he had no previous experience in maritime affairs. The job pays $20,000 a year.

Johnson, a native of Iowa City, Iowa, and a law graduate of the University of Texas, told the committee he planned to take an active role in policy matters.

"I wish you well," Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said. "You have a tough job ahead of you. Perhaps it is an advantage that you haven't any experience, I don't know. You do have the advantage of youth."

Johnson, selected by President Johnson for the post earlier this month, told the committee he is not related to the chief executive.

House of the Week

Small House: Elbow Room

DISTINCTIVE AND ECONOMICAL: Imaginative use of redwood siding, wood shingles and a touch of stone produce a striking yet economical facade for this three-bedroom ranch. Slender wood dowels support the overhang, giving an impression of formal columns.

Poor circulation, an unpleasant ailment to afflict a person, can be an equally melancholy malady when the patient is a house.

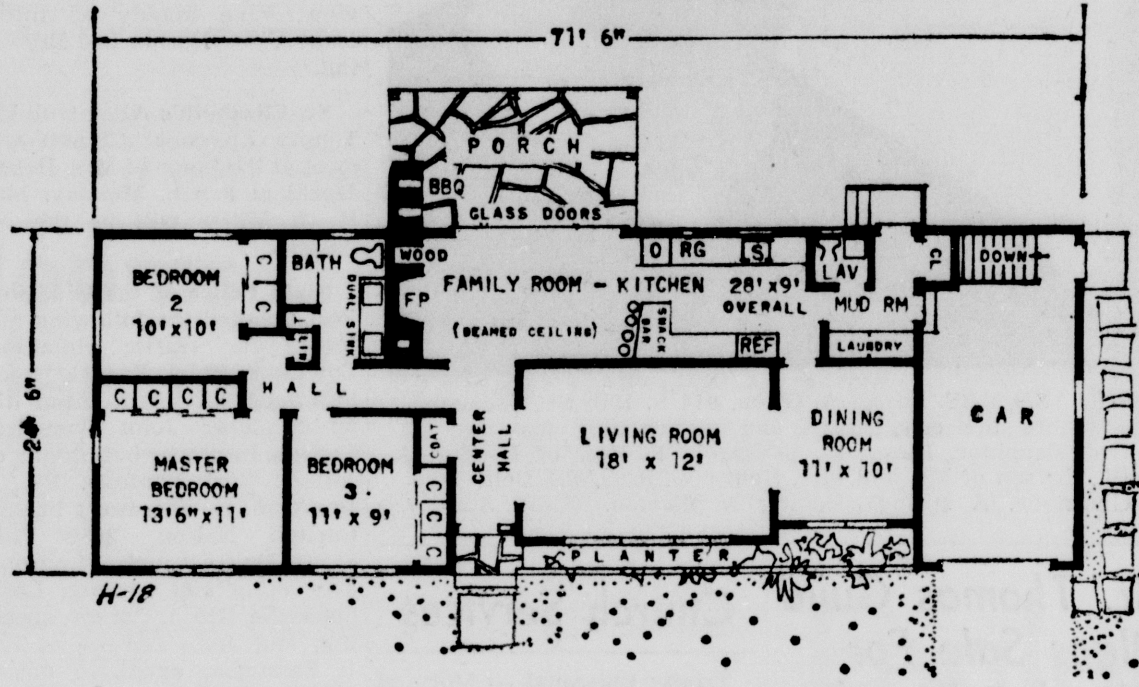

The symptoms are a stifling of movement between areas and sluggishness in getting from room to room. Also there is a dreadful lack of privacy—as when small boys have to troop through a living room full of company to get wherever it is they are going, or when a young lady must peek to see that the coast is clear before making a discreet dash from bath to boudoir.

The smaller the house, the more difficult it is for the designer to assure good circulation; there simply isn't much room available to devote to hallways.

Architect Lester Cohen accepted a formidable challenge, therefore, when he limited today's house of the week — a three-bedroom ranch — to less than 1,400 square feet.

The house contains only 1,390 square feet to be precise, yet not a single room has to be used as a regular passageway in going from one place to another. That's the best test of good circulation, and this modest house passes it in fine style.

There are two key factors in its excellent circulation pattern: a central hall, which funnels traffic efficiently from the main entrance to formal, informal or sleeping areas; and three other exterior entries which provide direct access to all the main areas of housekeeping and daily living.

FLOOR PLAN: An unbelievably small amount of space is devoted to hallways, yet movement to all rooms is direct, free and natural. Three exterior entrances at rear improve circulation. Total living area is 1,390 square feet not counting garage.

Cohen devoted equal care to his design of the outside of the house. By imaginative use of inexpensive materials, mainly vertical redwood siding and wood shingles, with a stone planter for accent, he was able to produce a striking yet economical facade. Slender wood dowels support the overhang and give impression of formal columns.

Additional Details

The hub of this house is the family room, a warm and inviting informal room with a ruggedly handsome fireplace and a beamed ceiling. The stone fireplace wall extends outside forming a barbecue on the covered rear porch, reached through sliding glass doors.

Adjoining the family room is the kitchen. A snack bar, with stools on the family room side, serves as a divider. Together the two rooms offer an informal expanse of more than 28' across the rear of the house.

The formal living and dining rooms both have broad banks of windows overlooking the front planter. Arches, between living and dining rooms, allow the rooms to flow together for a similarly spacious feeling in the main entertaining area.

While the kitchen is designed intentionally to be more intimately related to the family room, it still is quite accessible to the dining room.

A well designed mud room and laundry, with an adjoining lavatory, is nicely located next to both the kitchen and garage. There are three doorways in this corner of the house alone — from the rear, the side and the garage — assuring complete freedom of movement in what otherwise might become an awkward, congested area.

All three bedrooms are well proportioned, well ventilated, and well equipped with copious closet space. And all are within a few steps of the family bathroom. Note also that the bathroom is completely shielded from the living areas of the house.

A truly amazing feature of this house is the unbelievably small amount of space devoted to hallways. Yet movement to all rooms is free, direct and natural.

Another important aspect is the simplified construction, which means a savings in cost. The house is almost a perfect rectangle, yet there is no boxy look about it; instead it has an attractive roofline and a facade that would enhance any neighborhood.

Car Makers Set February High

DETROIT (AP) — Automotive News, a trade publication, said this week's output of an estimated 172,142 cars by U.S. auto makers would send the month's total to a new February high of an estimated 676,329 units.

The old mark of 675,495 was recorded in February, 1955.

This week's production compared with 169,000 last week and 148,860 in the corresponding period a year ago. For the year to date, U.S. auto plants have turned out an estimated 1,420,140 cars, compared with 1,321,030 for the same period of 1963.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Home Problems Are Reviewed

AP Newsfeatures

It's not the problems in the home, but our attitude toward them that counts. Things will go wrong in the stateliest homes, so we shouldn't get a "wretched house" complex. One must face up to individual obstacles as we approach them, and solve them as quickly as possible, without treating each one as a strike against the house. Above all one shouldn't let little things accumulate until we are over our heads in despair.

"Our fireplace was built by a local carpenter, and the thing that bothers me is that I'm afraid it isn't safe," writes a woman. "I'm afraid to use it when my husband isn't here. Is there any way to test it for safety? It is a small, inadequate fireplace in any case, and that may be one reason I do not have confidence in it."

No fireplace that presents doubts should be in service. The best fireplaces need professional care, and a check at the end of each season. A good chimney man will check it for leaks, grease and other matter that can start fires. He will check each flue. The carpenter who built it must have worked from plans, and any experienced workman would have been careful in respect to safety features, even if fireplace building isn't his regular line of work. Your fears could be put to rest by a chimney expert.

"We have an enormous heat register near the corner of our living room, and it is an unsightly mess. We brought carpet from our other home and I'm in favor of putting it over part of the register. My husband wants to cut the carpet, but since we just rent the house, I'm against cutting the carpet. Is there any solution to this without cutting the carpet?"

Experience with two wool carpets has shown that it is not affected by registers. These two instances involved dark rugs — a red and a gray with pads beneath. The registers did not affect them. Each carpet was down more than five years and did not completely cover the registers. One carpet had a urethane underpad, the other had a jute underpad. How carpet of other fibers would react to heat, I do not know, but you could get this information from the manufacturer.

"I have read a number of stories about floor stenciling being in vogue, and since I cannot afford carpet right now, I thought I would try it. Is it a difficult job? Is there an easier solution to the problem so that the floors do not look too bad? I plan to do the living room first, and then the others as I go along."

Stenciling floors does take time and a little skill. Furnishings should be removed from the room, and kept out of the room until everything is completely dry, for best results. If one can stencil a room over a long period, it may prove to be a very enjoyable task, rather than a back-breaking one. A good alternate plan is to paint the floors a bright color. Small area rugs could be used over floors, then moved to other rooms when carpet is purchased for the main room.

It pays to check a house thoroughly when you buy it as this reader found out.

"We bought a small house recently, only to find that the bedrooms do not have heat. Outside in the hall between the two bedrooms there is a heater, and the house is adequately heated downstairs. We are now trying to decide on the kind of portable heating units we should buy. The bedrooms are small and it shouldn't take a great amount of heat to do it, but we would need a modern unit of some sort."

Muslim Mosque Opens In Detroit

DETROIT—Muslims of this city are taking off their shoes and stepping on newly sacred ground for the first time, at regular worship services in their new Islamic Center, on Joy Road west of Greenfield.

The $250,000 mosque will be the hub of Detroit's 4,000 Muslims. (They prefer to be called Muslims, the Arabic word for "one who submits to God," and they also answer to the name of Moslem, the American pronunciation of Muslim. They are not, however, to be confused with the Black Muslims, the black nationalist movement in the U.S.)

Mohamad Jawad Chirri is the imam, or "leader," of the congregation which meets every Sunday. Mohammedans have no Sabbath, so they meet on the day most convenient to all.

They prefer Friday in Mohammedan lands, for this is the day they have a sermon required at the noonday prayer. All days are sacred to the Muslim, and he prays five times each day facing Mecca, holy city of the 7th Century Prophet Mohammed. The United Arab Republic contributed $44,000 to the new building, and the nation of Jordan, $7,000. The new center combines a Highland Park congregation and one of two Dearborn congregations.

They pray now in the white-walled, white-floored lecture room at the entrance to the mosque. When the wall-to-wall green or blue carpeting is finally laid, they will pray under the central plain concrete dome.

A Muslim in prayer first stands "face to face" with God, a posture of respect. He bows slightly during words of praise; then bows deeply, as though before a great king, and finally prostrates himself on the floor in humility and submission.

"We preach unity of spirit and the body," said Mr. Chirri, who came from Lebanon 13 years ago. "So our prayer must not only be in the mind and on the tongue, but demonstrated also with the body."

After the prayers, little ones and adults, too, were scurrying around, holding up shoes for a careful look, making sure they got the right ones.

Muslims recognize five prophets: Noah, Abraham, Moses, Jesus and Mohammed.

Mohammedans he said, have no concept of the Trinity; they do not believe Jesus is divine. To them there is no original sin (man is born pure, then sins in his adulthood), and there is no theory of redemption.

"Purity can be regained," said Mr. Chirri, "not by the intercession of another, but by sincere repentance."

A 65-foot minaret, a tower from which prayers can be announced by a member of the congregation, is next in the half - million - dollar building plans at the Center.

Frozen Funds Will Not Block Peace Award

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Blocked funds or not, the embattled Balzan Foundation plans to name all its 1963 prize winners. Its secretary general, Col. Aldo Danielli, says he will put up the prize money himself if necessary.

A Balzan spokesman said Thursday prizes of about $50,000 each probably will be announced this weekend for history and literary criticism, paleontology, astronomy and astrophysics, and political economy.

The Swiss government froze the Swiss - Italian foundation's funds in Swiss banks this week because of an internal dispute over the way the $151,000 Balzan peace prize for 1963 was awarded to the United Nations. A number of members of the Balzan prize committee complain they were not consulted.

Alumni Mass, Dinner At St. Anne's Sunday

The fifth annual High Mass for living and deceased members of St. Anne's Alumni Association will be offered Sunday, March 1, at 11:30 a.m. at St. Anne's Church by Father William Richards, Moderator of the Association. The Mass will be followed by the annual membership dinner which will be served in the parish hall at 1 p.m.

Preparations for the day are in charge of the board of directors.

Highlight of the dinner program will be an address by Father Laurence T. Gauthier, superintendent of Holy Name High School. His talk, entitled "The Classroom of Tomorrow," will deal with the modern methods being introduced in the rapidly advancing field of education.

Father Stephen Mayrand, pastor of St. Anne's, also will speak to the group, officers' reports will be given and retiring members of the board will be honored.

A short business meeting will follow the dinner program at which the annual financial report will be presented and names of newly elected board members announced. Plans for the ensuing year and new projects will be discussed.

Film Program At Calvary Sunday Night

An award winning film entitled "Dark Valley" will be shown Sunday night at Calvary Baptist Church at the conclusion of the regular Sunday evening service at 7:30. The film is the story of a mining disaster where three men are trapped below the earth's surface with a dwindling air supply. Realistically filmed in a southern Indiana coal mine, it provides a sobering challenge as these men face death together.

The evening's service will include music by the choir and a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Martin Strolle. Rev. Donald Wolf, the pastor, will give his final message in a series entitled "The Rapture."

The public is given a cordial invitation to attend.

Piano Pupils Of Marion Colvin In Group Programs

Two groups of piano pupils were presented in programs this week at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Marion Colvin.

As an aid to gaining poise and confidence in public performance, the pupils played for their mothers and for each other. Current lesson material was used for the program, includes scales, chords, studies in technique and various solo numbers.

Members of the intermediate group who played Monday evening were Nancy Arbour, Judy Engstrom, Birgit Olson, Nancy Pearson, Ellen Foster, Chris Barron, Bob Barron Jr., May Krohmer, Mark and Jon Krohmer and Pam Johns.

Pupils of the upper and lower advanced level, who played Thursday evening, were Beverly Plowman, Susan Plowman, Diane Shomin, Roberta Storbeck, Barbara Brown and Ruth Ann Brown.

Births

BERENT — Mr. and Mrs. George Berent Jr. of Waukegan are the parents of a daughter, Kimberly Rose, born Feb. 26 in Victory Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 6 pounds and 8 1/2 ounces. Mrs. Berent is the former Roselyn Hill of Rock.

Guild Meeting Monday Night At St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's Guild will have a business meeting Monday, March 2, at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. All women of the parish are invited.

Mrs. Herbert Barry, stamp project chairman, requests that members turn in their books at this time.

The social with cards will be in charge of St. Anne's Circle with Mrs. Lee McMillan, Mrs. Harold Bruce and Mrs. Jack Manning, co-chairmen of hostesses. Members may invite guests to attend the social.

Party Honors Arthur LaMarche

Arthur LaMarche was honored on the occasion of his 79th birthday anniversary Feb. 27, at the surprise party held at the home of his son, Lawrence LaMarche. Cards were played and a party lunch served with the birthday cake centering the table. Attending were Victor LaMarche, Albert LaMarche, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LaMarche, Mrs. Arthur Levesque, Mrs. William LaVallie and Mrs. Jerome Laques and sons. Mr. LaMarche was presented with many remembrances of the day.

Gladstone Season Ends With Victory

MUNISING — The Gladstone Braves closed their regular season on a successful note here last night by trimming Munising 66-53 in Great Lakes Conference competition.

Coach Bill Wood's cagers appeared their sixth victory in 16 starts with a balanced attack that saw four players hitting in double figures for the night.

The Braves had to overcome a 16-11 Munising lead in the first period and they took the halftime rest with a 30-28 margin. After outscoring the Mustangs by two points in the third the Braves cemented their verdict with a 17 point spurt in the fourth quarter while holding Munising to eight points.

Gladstone was outscored by one goal from the field but won from the foul line in one of the most unusual situations of the season. The Braves were whistled for only five fouls and two of them were committed on offense, giving Munising only three opportunities from the free throw line. The Mustangs connected on one gift toss.

The Mustangs were guilty of a pressing defense which they threw at the Braves through the game.

The Braves stepped to the line 24 times and came back with 16 free points.

From the field the Braves hit on 25 of 57 shots for 44 per cent, one of their best nights of the season. Munising scored on 26 of 71 shots for 36 per cent.

Senior center Tom Watson paced the balanced Gladstone attack with 18 points. Gary Englund chipped in with 16, Tom Domres 14 and Bob Randall 11. Lynn LaPlant rounded out the scoring effort with seven.

Domres had a big night on the boards, pulling down 16 rebounds as the Braves dominated that department by a 47 to 28 margin.

John Radcliffe topped the Munising scoring efforts with 16 points.

Orsino Blooms On Regular Job

MIAMI (AP)—The day after the 1963 All-Star game, Billy Hitchcock, then manager of the Baltimore Orioles, called John Orsino aside and said: "Johnny, from now on you're the regular catcher on this club."

The 25-year-old husky from Teaneck, N.J., had been alternating with Dick Brown during the first half of the season. His batting average was a lowly .232. Working behind the plate just about every day, Orsino hit .295 during the second half of the season and raised his batting average to .272 with 19 home runs and 56 runs batted in.

"Catching every day helped me," recalled Orsino today. "It was just a question of getting the opportunity. I was always considered a good hitter in the minors."

This is Orsino's eighth year of professional baseball and it marks the first time he's reported to a club tabbed as the first string catcher.

"Now that I've got the regular job," he said, "I've got to work harder than ever before. I told Hank (Manager Hank Bauer) I want to catch 150 games this year."

"This doesn't mean that I feel I've got it made. I realize in this game you've got to produce and if I don't protect my No. 1 ranking it won't be because of lack of hustle."

Orsino, tall, dark and powerful looking, was openly disappointed when the Giants traded him to Baltimore, in a five-player deal in December 1962.

"I hated to leave the Giant organization where I had spent six years," said Orsino. "But the more I thought of it, the more I realized it was a break for me."

"First, Baltimore needed a catcher. Second, Memorial Stadium is better suited for a right-handed hitter than is Candlestick Park. Third, the Orioles are a pennant contending team, just like the Giants."

Orsino, a right-handed hitter, slammed 11 of his 19 homers at Memorial Stadium, just five short of the record of 16 set by Jim Gentile in 1961.

Indians Scalp Model Towners

NEWBERRY — The Newberry Indians saved their best game for the season finale and scored a stunning 74-52 upset over Gwinn here Friday night.

Coach Art Allen's cagers had lost 14 straight starts since winning their opener from Munising.

The Indians left no doubt as to their intentions here last night whipping away to a 19-9 lead in the first period and spreading the margin to 37-18 at halftime.

Newberry was paced by Jerry Hunter with 23 points while Joe Panula pumped in 20 and John Hendrickson 16.

Guard Johnny Erickson led Gwinn with 11 points.

Carter Wants Joey Archer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, a mean-looking man with a moustache who is firmly entrenched as the No. 1 challenger in the middle-weight ranks, is much more interested in getting a shot at Joey Archer than champion Joey Giardello.

"I want to get Archer in the ring," the 26-year-old Paterson, N.J., middleweight said today after a lop-sided decision over James Ellis in a nationally televised bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"I want Archer. This time I can guarantee he won't stay in there. I won't say I'll knock him out, but he won't be in the ring at the end of the 10th round," Carter said.

It's a matter of professional pride, you see. Carter, a reformed ring wildman, lost a 10-round upset decision to Archer last Oct. 25. It rankles. The Hurricane loafed a bit in that one and lost a fight he should have won.

The stocky Carter, No. 1 in the World Boxing Association rankings, insists Archer is his target, but adds he'll take any fight he can get and would welcome a bout with the champion.

Carter abandoned his one-time free-wheeling, wild-swinging attack and carefully, methodically carved out the decision over Ellis, a lanky lad from Louisville.

The Paterson pro had it all the way as the scorecards of 7-3 and 6-3-1 by judges Frank Forbes and Jim Riccio and the 7-2-1 by referee Joe LoScalzo reflected. The AP scored for Carter 8-1-1.

Carter, whose pro record is now 19-4, came in at 157½. Ellis weighed 155½ for his third loss against 14 victories.

Orsino, tall, dark and powerful looking, was openly disappointed when the Giants traded him to Baltimore, in a five-player deal in December 1962.

"I hated to leave the Giant organization where I had spent six years," said Orsino. "But the more I thought of it, the more I realized it was a break for me."

Rockets Stall In Final Game

NEGAUNEE—Coach Al Dig-hera's Negaunee St. Paul Emeralds tuned up for defense of their Upper Peninsula Class D basketball championship here Friday night by defeating Rapid River 74-48 in the regular season -ender for both quints.

The victory was St. Paul's 17th in 18 starts this season. The defeat left Rapid River with a record of seven victories in 18 games.

The Emeralds ripped out to a big lead in the first half and coasted home behind a 33 point scoring performance by Dom Jacobetti, outstanding junior sharpshooter.

Jacobetti paced the Emeralds to a 43-20 first half lead by hitting on nine of his first 12 shots from the field.

Rod Guizzetti also reached double figures for the Emeralds with 20 points.

Doug Moss again paced the attack for Coach Barney Mc-

Call's Rapid River cagers. The 6 foot 1 inch junior hit on nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points, boosting his season total to 460. Jacobetti finished the season with 474.

Eagles Upset Crusaders In Final Game Of Season

The Stephenson Eagles stuck another feather in their basketball cap here Friday night with an impressive 63-55 triumph over the Holy Name Crusaders in the season finale for both teams.

The game, remained in command through the fourth quarter. The Eagles twice scored and stole the ball on Holy Name's throw-in from out of bounds. They led 61-50 with less than a minute remaining in the game.

The Eagles outscored Holy Name by three field goals, 26 to 23, and hit on 11 of 18 gift tosses. The Crusaders converted nine of 17 from the line.

Dougovito, smallest player on the floor at 5 feet 7 inches, paced the Eagles in scoring with 17 points while Bush, not much bigger, chipped in 16.

Frank Stupak was the lone Crusader to reach double scoring figures with 17 points.

Holy Name won the jayvee game 71-63.

Arrows Suffer Third Setback To Eben Quint

EBEN—Coach Jim Depew's Eben Eagles had their turn here last night, spilling the Central League champion Nahma Arrows 67-60 in the final game of the season for both teams.

Eben gained revenge for an 80-78 overtime setback at the hands of the Arrows in an earlier meeting of the teams.

The victory gave the Eagles an impressive 14-4 season record and a solid third place position in the final Central League standings.

For Coach Owen Peterson's Arrows, the defeat was their second straight and third of the season against 15 victories.

Eben concentrated its defense on the contest, Nahma's Don Johnson shook loose for seven field goals and five free throws for individual scoring honors for the Arrows.

Box score:

center hit on five field goals and eight free throws. Three of the field goals came in the fourth quarter.

Groleau closed his regular season scoring with a total of 588 points.

Bill Carlson had a good all-around night for the Eagles, pumping in 25 points and plucking 14 rebounds. Andy Freberg added 19 points and grabbed 15 rebounds.

Eben took a slim 19-18 lead in the first period and then gradually spread the margin to 14 points, 54-30, entering the fourth quarter. The final deficit of seven points was as close as Nahma got.

With Groleau boxed in throughout the contest, Nahma's Don Johnson shook loose for seven field goals and five free throws for individual scoring honors for the Arrows.

Class A Power Has Troubles

By The Associated Press

Some of the top Michigan schoolboy basketball quints had their troubles in the final week of the regular season. Most notable was Lansing Sexton.

The team that ruled as Class A state champs in 1959 and in 1960 may have difficulty winning this year. Sexton needed an overtime period to beat a mediocre Battle Creek Central team Tuesday 80-78, and some observers say they looked "sour" in defeating crosstown rival Lansing Eastern 57-50 Friday night.

But Sexton still is the odds-on favorite for Class A honors. Its 16 straight victories this season made this its first unbeaten year since 1954.

Meanwhile, Detroit Northwestern, second-ranked Class A team in the weekly Associated Press poll, easily disposed of 10th-ranked Detroit Northern 61-45 for the Detroit Public School title, but had a run for its money in taking the city championship from Grosse Pointe St. Paul 49-42.

St. Paul, top-ranked Class C squad, with little Jim Bigham leading the way, held Northwestern to seven points in the final quarter, but could only hit

The Wolves scored on 34 of 74 shots from the field for 46 per cent and added 10 of 21 free throws. The Tigers tallied on 29 of 69 field goals for 42 per cent and converted 14 of 24 opportunities from the line.

The Powers-Spalding attack was well balanced with three players in high double figures, led by Gary Gagne with 24 points. Paul Behrend added 19 and Mike Nelson 15.

The Tigers finished their season with a strong showing, copping six victories in their last nine starts.

For Carney, this was their first Big Eight Conference championship in their second season in the circuit. The Wolves finished in second place last season. The school is in its fifth season as a four-year institution.

Powers-Spalding won the jayvee game 77-68.

Finley Signs Stadium Lease

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A jovial Charles O. Finley has signed a four-year stadium lease for his Athletics, ending his bitter dispute with the city which led him to the brink of expulsion from the American League.

Finley, Mayor Irlus Davis and other city officials appeared anxious to forget the extended controversy and concentrate on the baseball team.

The city sought and obtained a four-year pact with a clause terming it "firm, binding and non-cancellable." Mayor Davis said this meant the city could seek an injunction against Finley moving the club and sue for damages if he should.

The American League backed the city to the limit. Just a week ago, AL owners voted to authorize a meeting to consider and act on lifting Finley's franchise. He quickly told the city he would sign for four years.

But Davis was determined in his stand that a binding lease was essential to win back fan support. In the two-month lease dispute Finley sought to move the club to Louisville, Ky., and Oakland, Calif. — before that, Atlanta and Dallas.

The city won this point after two days and two nights of often heated talks.

Elston Howard of the Yankees paced American League catchers in hitting in 1963 with a .287 mark, two points higher than Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins.

Two Basketball Strings Are Snapped Last Night

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

Like snatching panties from girls' dormitories and stuffing 38 guys into a telephone booth, losing basketball games had become the fad at Tulane this season.

In contrast, winning had been a way of life at Davidson.

Both routines were shattered Friday night, Tulane spoiled its chance to establish an all-time major college mark for losing by whipping Louisiana State 80-68. Eighth-ranked Davidson had its NCAA tournament expectations ruined, losing in a major upset 82-81 to unheralded Virginia Military.

Dave Kendall's 15-foot field goal.

Bob Davidson was the workhorse of the Southeastern Conference triumph, scoring 29 points and grabbing 19 rebounds.

Following the final buzzer, a number of the 2,500 loyal supporters on hand hoisted Green Wave players to their shoulders and carried them off the floor.

"It was really a nightmare," Tulane Coach Ted Lenhardt conceded after the game.

The story was completely different and utterly disheartening for Davidson, winner of the Southern Conference regular season play. The Wildcats had been favored to win the league tournament and advance to the NCAA.

Handed its fourth defeat in 26 games, though, Davidson faces nothing more than a consolation contest tonight against West Virginia, an 88-80 upset victim of George Washington.

Virginia Military, a two-time loser to Davidson already this season, was forced to come from behind after leading by 11 points in the opening minute of the second half.

Besides Davidson, seventh-ranked Oregon State was the only member of the Top Ten in action. The Beavers, entered in the NCAA, edged Oregon 71-68.

Texas A&M clinched at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title, beating Southern Methodist 75-70.

The situation in the Western Athletic Conference became completely muddled with Arizona State's 106-90 loss to Brigham Young. New Mexico moved into a first-place tie with Arizona State by nipping Wyoming 64-63. Utah is one-half game behind the leaders after whipping Arizona 86-73.

San Francisco moved into the NCAA with a 46-46 triumph over San Jose. It was San Francisco's 14th straight and clinched the West Coast Athletic Conference championship.

Iron Mountain Imports Jumper In Record Bid

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—In this skiing hotbed, the Pine Mountain jumping classic Saturday and Sunday is looking more like a showdown of gun slingers at the OK corral.

Imported from Cortina, Italy, at undisclosed expense is the No. 1 gun, Nilo Zandanel.

He will lead a deliberate attack on the American distance record.

Sponsors of the meet — the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Winter Sport Association and the Kiwanis Ski Club—want the American distance record returned to their huge Pine Mountain, where it rested until last year.

It was then that Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn., erased the 317-foot mark boasted by Pine Mountain and moved the record to 322 feet at Steamboat Springs, Colo.

This set the natives of hereabouts into action to return it to their domain. The Pine Mountain slide was remodeled this year making leaps of 330 to 340 feet possible.

Then Zandanel, a 26-year-old customs apprentice, was imported to try and gun his way to a new record.

Ten days ago at Oberstdorf, Germany, this lean bachelor with a Beatle-raising hairdo, became the toast of Europe with a world record flying leap of 472 feet.

"I am still on the customs payroll in Cortina while I am competing," said Zandanel, who arrived by plane in Iron Mountain Wednesday and has had a practice jump of 315 feet. "Only my expenses are being paid for this trip."

Zandanel finished way down in the recent Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria. He said he had been out of action for a year.

Russ Change Track Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Russian and United States track and field athletes will share the same dormitory, eat the same food from the training table and presumably work out together during the sixth annual meet here July 25-26.

The Russians want it that way, meet director Glenn Davis said today. He pointed out that such fraternization has been taboo with the Russians in the past.

The men's and women's teams will occupy the top four floors in the new eight-story Cecile and Michael Birnkranz Women's Residence Hall on the University of Southern California campus.

The dormitory is a short distance from Memorial Coliseum, site of the meet.

The Russian men will occupy the top floor, the U.S. men the third and the girls' teams separate lower levels.

Herb Harbeson, director of commons and residence halls at Southern California, said the Russians asked to use the American training menu, another departure from past practice.

Both the Coliseum facilities and Cromwell Field, the school's training grounds, will be shared by the teams.

Faul Gives Up Hypnotist For Pitching Help

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—It will be the real Bill Faul and not a pitcher under hypnotic trance that Detroit Tigers fans will see on the mound this year.

Faul, who gained considerable mention last season when it was revealed that he had seen a hypnotist before he was scheduled to pitch, has decided to make it on his own.

The 23-year-old Faul, a great believer in using weights and exercises to strengthen his arm, explained he was giving up on hypnotism "because I was afraid of what it might do to me."

"I didn't want to get to a point where I would be unable to do anything without it. I didn't want it as a crutch."

Faul had a 5-6 record with the Tigers last year. Three of the victories were against the Boston Red Sox, one of them a three-hitter.

"I have been working on certain muscles in my throwing arm through a new set of exercises," Faul continued. "I hope

I'll get a little more work because of it."

Faul was 6-1 with Dunedin in the Florida Winter Instructional League and termed the season very beneficial.

"I had a feeling some of the teams were picking up my pitches last year (which resulted in fewer starting assignments), so I worked at hiding the ball better," he said. "It also helped in another way because I was able to develop two more pitches."

While Faul and a few other players were drilling at Tiger-town Friday, the rest of the squad was in St. Petersburg, where Detroit was defeated by the New York Mets' early camp 6-0. The Tigers collected only three hits.

Detroit catcher Bill Freehan and Mets' infielder Sammy Drake both suffered bruises in the game and were taken to a hospital for x-rays. Neither player received a serious injury.

Remaining Detroit pitchers and catchers on the major league roster were to assemble at Henley Field today for the start of regular spring training. The rest of the squad will report Wednesday.

Still unsigned are pitchers Hank Aquirre and Terry Fox.

Ulcers Flare In Pro Ranks

By The Associated Press

Two near giveaways and one outright surrender in National Basketball Association action had the pro coaches' ulcers in high gear Friday night.

Cincinnati scored 51 points in the third quarter, then blew a 20-point lead before finally subduing Philadelphia 134-132 at Scranton, Pa.

Los Angeles wasted an 18-point margin late in the game but held for a 115-112 victory over Baltimore.

New York squandered a nine-point spread in the last eight minutes and lost to Detroit 112-110 in the opener of a double-header at Boston.

In the second game, San Francisco didn't have to worry about a blow-up. The crippled Warriors never got going and dropped a 107-92 verdict to the Celtics.

The results left Boston and San Francisco 2½ games up on Cincinnati and idle St. Louis, respectively, in the divisional races. Los Angeles' victory gave the Lakers a six-game cushion over Baltimore in the running for the last playoff berth in the West and New York's 51st defeat made the Knicks the NBA's losingest entry.

Murphy Quits Coaching Job

By The Associated Press

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—South High School's basketball coach, Mike Murphy, whose teams in 12 years have won seven City League championships, said Friday he is asking to be relieved from coaching for personal reasons. He said he wishes to remain on the faculty as a classroom instructor only. Murphy's teams have compiled an over-all record of 156 victories against 54 losses.

Golden Gloves Champs Named

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Wyce Westbrook of Cincinnati used slashing lefts to the stomach to buckle game William Page of Louisville and outpointed him for the heavyweight championship of the National Golden Gloves Tournament Friday night.

New champions were crowned in all eight divisions. But one winner, Harley Cooper of Omaha in the 175-pound class, won the heavyweight title in 1963.

Only one defending champion made it to the final bouts, William Douglas of Columbus, Ohio, and he was outpointed by Robert McMillan of Toledo in the night's most aggressive action.

Cooper outpointed Mike Bruce of Lowell, Mass., in the title go. Marcus Anderson of Louisville outpointed Floyd Molina of Fort Worth in a real crowd-pleaser, at 126 pounds.

Other champions: Don Cobb, St. Louis, outpointed A. C. Hill of Indianapolis in the 147-pound division; Donnie Broadway turned it on in the third round to outpoint Morise Bruns of Grand Rapids, Mich., at 112 pounds; Manuel Navarro of Fort Worth, Tex., outpointed John Copeland of Kansas City in the 118-pound division and Hedgeman Lewis of Detroit outpointed Stewart Isaacs of Cincinnati in their 135-pound scrap.

The Fort Worth team won the team championship with 15 points. Omaha, Cincinnati and Louisville had 13 each. At 10 were Roswell, N.M., Detroit, Nashville and St. Louis.

Only Baseball Fails To Gain In Attendance

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance in all major sports in the United States except for professional baseball surged upward in 1963, according to the 17th annual survey made by The Morning Telegraph and Daily Racing Form.

Horse racing set the pace, with the thoroughbreds drawing 38,636,295 for an increase of 1,379,225 over 1962 and the trotters drawing 24,925,537, an increase of 768,155.

The two major baseball leagues drew 20,477,465, a decline of 897,750, and the minor leagues drew 9,963,174, a decline of 84,394.

Racing's total of 63,561,537 made it the largest spectator sport in the nation on which formal records are kept.

However, most experts concede that basketball is the nation's No. 1 sport in attendance when all games are counted — college, high school, professional, and the numerous local leagues. It has been estimated that the sport draws around 150,000,000 annually. Exact figures are impossible to obtain.

The Morning Telegraph attributed the increase in general attendance to "the current leisure time explosion and the constant extension of schedules and seasons."

College football had an excellent year with 616 schools drawing 22,237,094, an increase of 1,009,932, despite a loss of approximately 250,000 when 34 games were canceled because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The National Football League gained 189,915, to 1,274,785, and the American Football League gained 189,915, to 1,274,785.

In basketball, 737 senior colleges were listed as having an attendance of 13,699,768, for a gain of 877,960.

One of the largest attended sports in the nation is automobile racing. No exact figures were available, but The Morning Telegraph estimated this pastime jumped 3,800,000 — the largest single gain of any sport — to a total of 35,000,000.

Mrs. M. J. Carl Joins Staff Of State Hospital

Mrs. Mary J. Carl, R. N., has joined the staff of Newberry State Hospital, Dr. R. R. Cameron, Medical Superintendent, recently announced.

Mrs. Carl, who received her nurses' training at Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing in Boston, has also studied psychology at the University of Maryland, University of Ohio, and Boston University. In addition, she studied psychiatric nursing at the University of Pennsylvania.

While in the United States Army Medical Corps, she attained the rank of Major and was instructor of Psychiatric Nursing at Cushing General Hospital in Farmington, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Carl is a member of the American Nurses Association, The National League of Nurses and is on the Membership Committee of the Michigan State Nursing Association. She is Advisor to the Future Nurses Club of Newberry High School; Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Newberry District Nurses Association.

B & PW Club Holds Meeting

NEWBERRY — The Business and Professional Women's Club held their February meeting in the Lower Falls room Monday. Table decorations were carnations arranged in a low bowl.

Superintendent of the Newberry Schools Joseph L. DeCook was present and he talked about the proposed new legislation concerning state aid for schools.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. DeCook, and new members present were: Ruth Douglas, Anita Hopkins, Margaret Knauf, Florence Neff, Pauline Brown, Beatrice Sorson, Phyllis Miller, Sylvia Mohr and Constance Fyvie.

Hostesses for the meeting were Marion Gibson, Elizabeth Roat and Frances Beaulieu. The meeting was handled by Mrs. Rena Perry.

The next meeting will be March 10. Civil Defense will be on the program.

Fishing Conditions

In the Les Cheneaux area, perch fishing continues good in Government Bay. In Muskallonge Bay, pike spearing has been excellent and perch fishing fair. Off Hessel, excellent catches of perch are being taken. Wrigglers are principle bait.

Near St. Ignace, Brevort and East Lakes have been consistent for pike spearing.

In Luce County, perch and rainbow fishing has been good at Bass Lake north of McMillan. Good catches of perch have also been taken from Ferch Lake.

a plot by a suicide pilot to ram his plane.

"I don't handle my own security," Johnson replied. He said he was informed there were reasons for taking additional precautions and he directed that the matter be handled by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and the Secret Service. He said their suggestions were followed and he was not familiar with the details.

The full-dress session with newsmen, with the nation looking on, marked completion of Johnson's first 100 days in office, and the chief executive was asked how he sized up the period.

Johnson said he has been reasonably close to the presidency for 30 years but "I've got many different impressions the last 30 days than I had before I came to this awesome responsibility."

Crisis Taken In Stride
He said he was deeply impressed by how people closed ranks and were anxious to see the country after the "tragic affair of last November" when President John F. Kennedy's assassination catapulted him into the White House.

Johnson said he is impressed by the way the top officials of the government have carried on. He said he is pleased with what Congress has done, passing 10 of 15 appropriations bills carried over from last year, passing an education bill, putting the civil rights bill through the House and completing action on the tax bill.

He said he has been lavishly praised and criticized but thinks the American nation was conducted itself well in a crisis. He said in the first 100 days "men and women of good will" worked together.

On other points raised in the question session, Johnson had these comments:

Panama — He hopes agreement can be reached as early as possible. He said the 1903 treaty on the Canal Zone has been modified from time to time, and that possibly the situation will require "adjustment in 1963 or 1964." But he said "we are not going to make any pre-commitments."

Viet Nam — Johnson said he has asked Defense Secretary McNamara to go there in the next few days, have conferences and bring back valuable information.

Solutions Sought
He called the situation "very difficult" and said we must rely on the South Viet Nam army to defend the country.

Laos — The United States has protested violations of the Geneva agreement by the Pathet Laos in Laos, Johnson said. This was the reply to a question whether this country now thinks that, because of the activity of the faction, neutralization is no longer the proper policy for the southeastern Asian country.

Cyprus — Johnson said "we are deeply concerned, we think it is a very serious situation... The matter is now pending in the United Nations and we are doing our dead level best to find a solution."

Nixon — Asked about speculation that he expects to run against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the Republican candidate, Johnson said he has not speculated "on whether I'll run or even who 'I'll run against if I do run.'"

Lodge — Johnson rejected the idea that the position of Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador in South Viet Nam and as a possible Republican contender for the presidency makes U.S. policy "awkward."

May Bar Lard
Cuba — Johnson said he was informed Friday the Commerce Department was considering adding lard to the list of commodities to be barred from sale to Cuba.

Bobby Baker — Asked how he appraised the possible political impact of the Bobby Baker case Johnson said it is a matter for the Senate to consider.

"I'm sure they'll take the proper action," he said.

Civil rights — Johnson said he has never discussed with anyone any proposal to compromise on the public accommodations section of the civil rights bill now pending in the Senate.

He said he thinks such rumors are Republican in origin.

FBI AGENT Donald Morey examines part of the $28,567 taken in a bank robbery at New Iberia, La. Agents captured John L. Landry of New Iberia in suburban St. Louis, Mo., and recovered $24,000. They also found the gun used in the holdup, a television set, and a pair of cowboy boots. The arrest cut short Landry's spending spree, the agents said. (AP Wire-Photo)

jets operated by the Air Force. Newsmen were told the President's plane was being overhauled.

2. All numerical markings were removed from the plane used by Johnson, as well as from two identical planes that accompanied him.

3. Whereas two transports normally are used on presidential flights—one as a backup craft available in an emergency—three were flown to Florida. The aim could have been to reduce the odds that any pilot on a suicide mission would find his target.

Time Kept Secret
4. No advance announcement was made of the arrival time for any of Johnson's stops, nor for his departures. Sometimes even his destination was kept secret until he was aloft.

5. Johnson's jet dropped him at West Palm Beach, 67 miles north of Miami Beach. He completed the trip by helicopter, landing on a golf course instead of at Miami International Airport where many reporters, photographers and others waited.

6. On four helicopter flights during the trip, Johnson rode in craft which carried no markings that would identify them as presidential craft. The President's seal was removed from the nose of each helicopter, as were red numerals that normally are marked on the side of each cabin.

7. An unusual number of fighter planes criss-crossed southern Florida and surrounding Atlantic and Caribbean waters during the trip.

8. Even when Johnson was on the ground in Miami Beach, riding in a closed limousine, an Army helicopter with armed security agents hovered barely 75 feet away.

Virtually the entire top echelon of the Secret Service accompanied the President to Florida. This included the chief, James J. Rowley, and the head of the White House detail, Gerald Behn.

Program Given For Mothers Club

Part Advance On Feed Grain Program Offered

Growers who take part in the 1964 Feed Grain Program may receive part of the diversion payment in advance, Vincent Rappette, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. As last year, the program will be available for corn and barley.

Up to one-half of the estimated total diversion payment may be made in advance, at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time. The rest of the diversion payment and all of the price-support payment offered by the program will be made next fall.

The advance payment provision should be of substantial benefit to growers who can use some extra ready cash during the spring planting season.

As in 1963, the 1964 Feed Grain Program offers participants a payment for diversion of eligible cropland to approved conservation uses, and a price-support payment on the normal production of the 1964 feed grain acreage.

The acreage of corn and barley has been combined into one total feed grain base for each farm, and a producer may divert one or more of the feed grains in the total base. The minimum diversion under the program will be 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base acreage.

While participation in the program is voluntary, the price-support payments, as well as the diversion payments, will be available only to growers who carry out the program's provisions.

Signup for the program will continue at the ASCS Office through March 27.

Northern's Spring Signup Is Record

MARQUETTE — A record enrollment of 3,275 on-campus students at Northern Michigan University was announced today. The figure represents a 10.9 per cent increase over the 2,933 students enrolled for the second semester a year ago.

This spring's total includes 3,052 undergraduates and 223 graduate students.

In addition to the on-campus enrollment, northern reported 112 students enrolled in nursing education and 500 in field courses, making a total of 3,887 students served.

Hot Line Denied

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo newspapers said today Norman Cousins told Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda that Washington plans a "hot line" with Tokyo, but the American author strongly denied it.

"I don't know anything about a hot line," said Cousins, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Nobel

Press Newsboys Offer Bargains In Subscriptions

Escanaba Daily Press subscribers are being offered renewal of the year's biggest bargain in current reading.

The 105 newspaper boys of the Press in 30 communities from Stephenson and Hermansville east to Engadine and Nautawinway are participating in the subscription contest. Winners will receive a two-day all-expense paid trip to the Wisconsin Dells in June.

The Dells trip will include visits to the Upper and Lower Dells by boat, seeing the Tommy Bartlett Water Carnival, Indian ceremonial dances, a ghost town, Minirama, Pioneer Village, Storybook Land and other attractions and a side trip to the World Circus Museum at Baraboo, Wisconsin.

The boys are offering for 65 cents a week a subscription to the Escanaba Daily Press delivered daily, and choice of three or four magazines. The choice of magazines varies by two listings, if all choices are made in one list the subscriber gets four, if in the other list he gets three. Renewals cost just like new subscriptions.

Among the new magazines on the list offered this year, says George Coan, Press circulation manager, is TV Guide. It is listed with the Saturday Evening Post, Life, Look, Ladies Home Journal, McCall's, Good Housekeeping, Field &

Order Servant To Probation For Three Years

Lloyd L. Servant, 37, of 627 N. 18th St., who pleaded guilty Friday in Marquette County Circuit Court to a charge of gross indecency with a male person, was sentenced to three years probation.

Special conditions of the sentence are that Servant is not to associate with known sex deviates, that he is to receive psychiatric treatment and must report periodically to the court.

The arrest was made in Escanaba Thursday by police on a warrant requested by Delta County Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapekis. Servant waived examination in Escanaba municipal court on Friday and was taken to Marquette Circuit Court for arraignment in its current term.

Is borrowing costing you too much?

When you pay too much for interest and extra charges, you don't get anything for your money. You just boost your cost of living.

There's no need for that if you're a credit union member.

You can get loans for any worthwhile purpose, big or little, at low rates. You can save conveniently while you repay on your loans. You get generous dividends on your savings.

Home repairs, medical bills, taxes, insurance payments, automobiles, furniture, appliances—these are just a few of the purposes for which credit unions make loans.
